CUSTOM ENGINEERED PRODUCTS

Our engineers work closely with your team to design the product you need — whether reproducing or creating anew — to determine the most appropriate and cost-effective solution. From roller recovering to open-cast and compression-molded products, Mi Conveyance Solutions works with unparalleled precision to get you what you need when you need it.

WHY POLYURETHANE?

Because urethanes are liquid prior to processing, they can be molded into almost any shape or size — making it ideal for custom solutions. Products created with polyurethane are stronger, tougher, and more durable than those made from conventional elastomers and plastics. Plus, it can be bonded to a wide variety of materials, including wood, metal, and plastic substrates. In fact, these bond strengths are often stronger than the polyurethane itself.
